

Quilting News - April 2023

From the Editor

While spring officially starts in March, I don't really believe it's here until April.

It's always sometime in April when I take that deep breath of air that really feels like spring. You know the air I'm talking about. It's just a bit warmer than the last breath, and while you can't quite put your finger on why, somehow, it just tastes like warm sunshine, fresh grass, and the promise of summer.

April is designated as National Month of Hope. And with hope comes promise. Whether we're hoping for a brighter tomorrow, or the promise of a good meal, April is full of reasons to smile.

Let's hop right thru the month of April while we celebrate Easter on April 9th. Great time to show off your bunny placemats! Something I did not know is that April 9th is also r National Unicorn Day. Who would have thought? Other days of interest include National Pet Day on the 11th as well as Earth Day on the 22nd. Whatever the day, remember we are here to assist you with getting your special project supplies.

As always Happy Quilting!

Have you had time to think about joining the Quilting Retreat in September? We would love to see you there. Click the link below to register your spot at this fun event. Spots are filling up quickly so hurry to not miss the event.
